

 Peace is the Feeling

©Linda Allen 1984

Peace is the feeling you have when you're hugged
Then you turn and hug someone and the feeling is love
When the whole world is hugging, oh, won't that be fine?
There'll be peace for all humankind

Peace is the feeling you have when you share
'Though it's hard letting go, there's so much we can spare
When the whole world is sharing, oh, won't that be fine?
There'll be peace for all humankind

Peace is the feeling you have when you care
About strangers in trouble, about people everywhere
When the whole world is caring, oh, won't that be fine?
There'll be peace for all humankind

Peace is the feeling when you learn not to hit
'Though it's hard, when you're angry, to use words instead
When the whole world stops hitting, oh, won't that be fine?
There'll be peace for all humankind

Peace is the quiet you feel deep inside
It's the small voice you hear that says everything's alright
When the whole world is quiet, oh, won't that be fine?
There'll be peace for all humankind
